

AMC Assists Passengers from the Asiana Flight 214

Accident

Asiana Airlines Flight 214 was the first fatal accident in the history of the Boeing 777. 307 people were on board when the plane crashed in San Francisco. Of the 307 passengers, three passed away and another 181 were injured. 141 people on board the flight were Chinese citizens including 70 students and teachers traveling to the United States for summer camp (the majority from Taiyuan). In addition to seeing passengers at our center in Shanghai, AMC doctors have been making regular trips to Taiyuan to provide care for those injured in the accident. AMC mourns for those who lost their lives in the accident and we are looking forward to continuing to support everyone who has been affected by this crash.
